The national sport of England

Have you already guessed what the national sport of England is? Right, it is football! Football is the most popular sport in England. English people have played football for a very long time. In the 19th century the game didn't have any real rules!

In 1815, Eton College created rules to make the game less violent. Later, in 1848, Cambridge University made many of the modern rules. Football quickly became very popular!

Today, there are thousands of football clubs in England! Professional clubs, such as Arsenal, Liverpool and Manchester United are famous all over the world.

Football is so popular, that famous footballers, such as David Beckham, have become role models for a lot of children.

Football is an important part of the cultural life in England. Hundreds of thousands of fans support their favourite teams in stadiums around the country every weekend.
